

2023 Anthology Entry Form

Dear member,

FAWSH hopes to produce a 2023 Anthology showcasing some of our members' work. You are invited to submit up to 3 of your favourite pieces for inclusion. We currently have 31 financial members, so could end up with 90+ items and about a 180 page anthology.

You are free to submit work in any genre. Poetry, plays, short story, memoir or an extract from a longer piece such as a novel. Poetry of any reasonable length suitable for an anthology. Plays should be about the length of the 10minute crash test plays. Shorter skits are also welcome. Short stories, memoirs and extracts can be up to 2000 words.

Entry Fee is $5 per item and entry forms need to be returned at the August meeting or emailed through by then to Uta (dupurcell@inet.net.au).

Final date for submissions of items is 31 August 2023 via email. (dupurcell@inet.net.au)

Items must be edited and ready for publishing, not in the draft stage.

Please use Word, single spacing and 12 Times New Roman font.

Previously published works are acceptable as it is not a competition, but of course works that have been published in previous FAWSH anthologies are discouraged. Most members would easily have three pieces available and if not there is still time to write something new.

Please state how many copies of the anthology you might like to purchase, as this makes it easier to decide on how many need to be printed. The last anthology worked out at about $10 per copy but allow a little extra ($15) as it is hard to estimate costs.
